SNOW SKIING

On the Bib Rock there was a solitary figure, none other than our old friend, Raro the Rabbit. There was snow on the ground but soon he knew it would be melted. Coming to him from the side of the Big Lake was Froggo the Frog. Who was taking his usual morning exercises. First he would take three big jumps forward. Then he would take two small jumps forward. When he came to the Big Rock he stopped and spoke.

"Nothing like my daily exercises to keep me feeling fine and fit. I get up very early. Remember what they say about the early bird. That it is the early bird that catches the worm."

"You just wait a minute," interrupted the thin voice of Willy the Worm who had just stuck his head out of the ground to see how much snow was still left. "That is the most ridiculous statement I have ever heard. It just really hasn't any sense to it."

"Yes it has," objected the frog. "It makes a lot of good common sense. If you get up early you will accomplish things. So the bird got up early and got the worm."

"But what about the poor worm?" demanded Willy the Worm. "He got up very early. Was he rewarded for being a good worm? Absolutely not! His tragic end was that a bird got him. Sends shivers down my long thin skin. It would have been much better had the worm remained under the ground and kept on sleeping. I ask you to tell me what the early worm caught? Where did you get that statement?"

"Humans use that expression," admitted Froggo the Frog. "So please forgive me. I will think twice before I repeat something I have heard."

"Why think only twice"? challenged Raro the Rabbit. "Now there is another silly expression that bothers me very much. A human says to another human: I will think twice before doing it. What is so very important about the idea of thinking two times? Why not think three times? Or four times? Or as many times as necessary: People do say a lot of dumb things. They ought to come here and learn from us."

"We can learn some things from humans," said the friendly voice of Squaro the Squirrel who had just jumped down from the side of a big tree. I just come from the ski place at Lirch Hills. Last summer I hid some acorns. But I couldn't find the place. It is all covered with snow. I watched adults and little children go skiing. Now that is something we ought to do."

"But to go skiing we need ski shoes, ski poles, and the skiis themselves," pointed out Froggo the Frog. "I bet they don't even have our sizes at that ski place."

"Nothing like ingenuity," grinned the rabbit. "Just take a look at the other side of the tree."

So the squirrel, the frog, and the worm followed their friend to the other side of the trees. On the ground were some sticks on cords.

"I must admit that for a long time I too wanted to go skiing," continued the rabbit. "So I collected the flat sticks from ice cream pops. Also some cord. We tie the sticks to our feet with the cord. Now we have skiis to use on the snow. For ski poles we can use the thin round sticks that are inside lolly pops. Come I will help you on with the skiis and then you will help me."

Polly the Pigeon was resting on the twenty eighth-branch of the Big Oak Tree She looked down and noticed what her friends were doing. Being curious she did the normal thing. Flew right down to the snow covered ground.

"You look funny with those sticks tied to your feet," she remarked to Raro the Rabbit. "What are you going to do?"

"Go skiing," said the rabbit. "Now watch me!"

The rabbit walked with the skiis to a little mound of snow. Then climbed up the snow.

"Get out of my way!" he shouted as he started to go downhill.

Not knowing just how to stop at the end and not wishing to hit a tree the rabbit threw himself down.

"That's a lot of fun coming that way to a stop," admitted the frog. "I'm next!"

Polly the Pigeon watched the frog, the rabbit, and the squirrel as they went up and down with their skiis.

"Good thing Willy the Worm hasn't any feet. Can you imagine him skiing?" she said.

"So I will slide right down the snow," snapped back the worm. "I really have feet but they are too small for skiis.

So the worm went to the side of the mound and started sliding down. He was certainly enjoying himself. Then Polly the Pigeon asked the rabbit to put a pair of skiis on her feet.

"I want to try flying and coming in for a landing on the skiis," she told her friend. "Just like an airplane equipped with skiis."

The next five minutes they all watched Polly the Pigeon as she flew up into the air. Then made a dive towards the snow covered earth. But straightened out before landing. She skied the longest distance.

"I'm getting tired," she admitted. "Please take the skiis off my feet."

Froggo the frog acted as the perfect frog and helped Polly the Pigeon to remove the skiis. They put the skiis, the cord, and the lolly pop sticks back at the side of the the tree. They all sat down to rest on the Big Rock.

"We ought to do this every year," suggested the frog. "I like it much better than my jumping exercises."

"Why can't we have snow in the summer?" demanded the rabbit. "We get snow in the winter. Actually we should have a winter without snow. And then get our snow in the summer."

"You just wait a minute," said the angry voice of Mr. Snowman. "I am the one who runs things. Not you. For millions of years we have had a very nice simple way of doing things. We have snow in the winter. Not in the summer. If we had snow in the summer then the summer would be the winter. And the winter would be the summer. Which would really make a big mix up. Because in the southern part of the hemisphere they have summer when we have winter. And they have winter when we have our summer. If we have winter instead of having summer then they will have to have their summer instead of having their winter."

"That certainly would be a big mix-up." admitted the squirrel. "Maybe there is another way of doing it. We just turn the entire world around. So where once it was the northern hemisphere it now becomes the southern hemisphere. And the southern hemisphere becomes the northern hemisphere."

"Maybe we ought to be contented with things just as they are," sighed the squirrel. "I can see at once we will have a lot of things in one big jumble."

"You certainly will," added the sweet voice of Miss Spring who was waiting for the snow to melt. "This is the last snow of the year. Then I take over. I have made all the arrangements for the grass to go up through the earth and for the flowers to bloom. If you made those changes there would be utter confusion."

"So Summer remains Summer and Winter remains Winter," laughed the pigeon. "We can spend the summer reading books on how to ski. Something tells me there must be a better and more efficient way to stop than just to fall down."

"It is agreed that this is our first and last day of skiing for the year," announced the frog. "I have a feeling that by tomorrow the snow will start to melt. Let us be on our way. I have to speak to Bollie the Bass. She will soon have her worries about her young ones. The fishing season starts in the fishing season starts in the middle of next month."

"Don't mention fishing season to me," shouted poor Willie the Worm. "There ought to be a law against fishermen. Someday we worms will rebel. We'll tie the fishermen to the ends of our hooks and see how they like it. That would be justice in the honored name of all those worms who did their best not to catch fish."

So the friends said farewell to each other and left. An hour later a human appeared on snowshoes in that area. He was the game warden and he made a quick check of the ground. He noticed certain marks on the snow and observed them very carefully. When he returned home his wife had a good hot supper for him on the table. But she took one look at his face.

"What is bothering you, dear?" she asked.

"Something I can't tell anyone but you," he admitted "Because they would think I was a bit off my head. But I swear I saw little ski marks on the ground. Somebody or something was using little skiis. Could it be Raro the Rabbit and his friends."

"Stop worrying," scolded his wife. "Your soup is getting cold."

Now Has Slender Hips, Thighs, Knees, Calves and Ankles!

"As You Can See, There is a Decided Difference... I Can't Thank You Enough" —writes Miss B. S, Flushing, N.Y.

The most encouraging news for women with fat, flabby legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchsten, Ph.T. If your heavy legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the slender, alluring legs you've always wanted. This well known physiotherapist, who was President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of over 30 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN SLENDERIZING HEAVY LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for concentrating on trimming down heavy legs.

Other women actually tried reducing diets alone to slenderize heavy legs. Since a weight reducing diet cannot be made to take weight off any single part of your body, you may lose weight everywhere but in your legs. And if your legs lost a little weight, no drug or diet can normalize and firm the entire contour, which would remain flabby. This method does concentrate on slenderizing each section of your legs from the hips to the ankles.

↑AFTER

Look at the firmer, slender curves of her legs now. She writes that the change was apparent even before she finished this method.

←BEFORE

Miss B. S. had heavy, flabby legs, was self-conscious because her legs spoiled her entire figure.

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This progressive scientific method for slenderizing heavy legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body contour experts throughout the world.

Your heavy flabby legs are usually caused by fatty layers and too much muscle tissue which stretch the muscles of your legs and cause them to bulge.

To help correct this condition properly you should try this scientific system planned to concentrate on each section of your legs: help break down fatty layers and extra bulging muscle tissue and help strengthen and normalize the muscle tone which makes the contour of the legs more normal, firm, slender and attractive. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape the bulging hips possess streamlined youthful lines which men admire, the flabby thighs are trimmed down into an attractive contour, ugly knees are daintily shaped without puffed-up pouches of flesh, the heavy calves take on more slenderized alluring curves and even the heavy ankles show sleek, graceful lines.

"ALL AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that heavy legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure while nicely slenderized limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the heavy and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed firm legs help you in all sports: then enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc. with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration. Removing excess flabbiness and strengthening your legs will give you more energy for work or play, help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

TESTED AND PROVEN METHOD REQUIRES ONLY 15 PLEASANT MINUTES A DAY!

This amazing method has been used by beautiful stage and screen stars, professional models and women in every walk of life. Thousands have gladly paid high fees for personal instruction here in New York City. Now this famous expert makes it possible for any woman to try his method, requiring only 15 minutes a day, right in the comfort and privacy of her own home at a tiny fraction of this cost.

You get the complete easy, step-by-step illustrated SCIENTIFIC LEG SLENDERIZING TECHNIQUE with simple instructions for fat, flabby hips, thighs, knees, calves, ankles; gaining firmer, stronger legs, improving skin tone and circulation in legs, normal causes of heavy legs, plus measurement chart for each section of leg according to height and weight; also, how leg slenderizing may improve general health. Every point is made absolutely clear by illustrations and simple step-by-step explanations, using everyday situations. No half-answers to confuse you, no cross-references to make you use several books to get information. All the books teach you naturally, without memorizing long lists of rules.

Complete Explanations, Simple Illustrations Make Every Point Clear—No Previous Knowledge of the Subject Required

Here's how complicated subjects are MADE SIMPLE. In PHYSICS MADE SIMPLE, you are shown this simple home experiment, which costs nothing. Hold one edge of a letter paper against your chin, just below lower lip, with the paper hanging over and down. Blow above the paper and it will rise as if pulled up in the air stream. This simple principle makes airplanes fly and teaches us to make moving objects move quickly and easily. Other books give you Bernoulli's Law, molecular action and other confusing terms. By the time you got to the experiment, if there was one, you wouldn't understand it. Here you read a simple explanation, do the experiment and then learn the technical terms, so you learn naturally, by doing, without memorizing anything. This has worked for many people who thought they were more hopeless than you may think you are.

You would pay many times the price for much less beautiful and useful encyclopedias. But these books, with sample military and civil service tests, hundreds of illustrations, hundreds of safe, easy home experiments, thousands of pages of clear, concise, valuable instruction and self-tests with answers in the back, will be USED, ENJOYED and ADMIRED by all your family and friends.
